DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-10, drawn to a countermeasure system, classified in class 89, subclass 1.8.
 - II. Claims 11-25, drawn to a marine vessel, classified in class 114, subclass 6.
 - III. Claims 26-36, drawn to a method of using a countermeasure system, classified in class 89, subclass 1.11.
 - IV. Claims 37-43, drawn to a method of using a countermeasure system from a marine vessel, classified in class 114, subclass 382.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different functions. The Invention of group I functions to protect a marine vessel from attack and comprises a countermeasure cartridge and a rotation inhibitor. The invention of group II functions to protect any object, does not have a countermeasure cartridge and the launch tube is rotatable relative to the base and has a reference axis that extends along a length of the launch tube and the launch tube is rotatable about the reference axis.
3. Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a process of launching a warhead.

4. Inventions II and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in the process of manually aiming and firing a countermeasure cartridge.

5. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

The rotation inhibitor

- a. guide key associated with the launch tube and the keyway defined in the cartridge;
- b. guide key associated with the cartridge and the keyway defined in the launch tube.

Pitching step

- c. at a predetermined time;
- d. within a predetermined time range;
- e. at a predetermined point of a flight path;
- f. within a predetermined range of a flight path;
- g. at a predetermined pitch angle.

Art Unit: 3641

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species (for both the rotation inhibitor and the pitching step) for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 11, 26, and 37 appear to be generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. A telephone call was made on 7/2/04 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

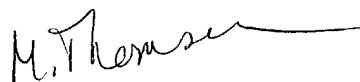

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michelle (Shelley) Thomson whose telephone number is 703.306.4176. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday thru Thursday 9-5.
